

SHORT BIO NOTE

Sharit Bhowmik has an MA in sociology from University of Bombay and Ph.D. from the University of Delhi (Delhi School of Economics). His research work was on tea plantation labour in eastern India. He has taught at the University of North Bengal, Indian Institute of Management Calcutta, University of Delhi and University of Mumbai. He is at present Professor of Labour Studies and Dean of the School of Management and Labour Studies, Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai. He has also been Visiting Faculty at McGill University, Montreal and Guest Professor at Magdeburg University, Germany. Prof. Bhowmik has worked extensively on issues concerning labour.