

A Workshop on Preparing a Living Archive on Migration

organized by

Calcutta Research Group

in collaboration with

Rosa Luxemburg Stiftung, South Asia

21 December, Kolkata

Session Notes

Session I:

Archiving the Refugees, Migrants and the Labour: A panel of scholars, activists and journalists and researchers will discuss the necessity to document the struggle of the refugees, migrants and labours.

Session II:

New Forms of Archives: This session will discuss the new forms of archives (i.e. multimedia archives, digital archives etc.) that emerged in the last few years and talk about the process and technicalities to prepare these archives.

Session III: Virtual Session

Challenges of Archiving the Labour and the Migrants (Virtual): Documenting the migrants, especially the migrant labours are always a challenging task. Some archives and individuals take the challenge to document the labours especially during the time of crisis (war, racial conflict, epidemic etc.). The experts in this session will discuss the challenges and how they fought with those challenges.
