

Invitation to Book Discussion

The Center on Gender and Forced Displacement is excited to invite you to an insightful book discussion in collaboration with the Transit Asia Research Network (TARN), the International Center for Cultural Studies (ICCS), and the Mahanirban Calcutta Research Group (CRG).

Date: August 2, 2024

Time: 4:30 PM - 6:00 PM

Location: Training Room, AIT Library, Asian Institute of Technology, Bangkok, Thailand

Book Discussion Highlights:

In "Border as Method" by Prof. Sandro Mezzadra and Prof. Brett Neilson, we will explore the complexities of borders, a groundbreaking examination of how borders operate and influence global dynamics. This discussion will delve into the intricate ways in which borders affect political, social, and economic systems globally.

Also, we will delve into the struggles of marginalized communities in "The Marginal Nation" by Prof. Ranabir Samaddar, a profound exploration of the multiple nuances of migration that shows how the marginal becomes central. This discussion aims to highlight the challenges and resilience of marginalized communities and their significant impact on broader societal dynamics.

Website: TARN 2024 Meeting

To Register: <https://forms.gle/aKkXvDhFBBBtQsor6>

To Join Us Online: Click Here

Meeting ID: 862 5212 3489

Passcode: 202785

We look forward to your participation in this engaging discussion and your valuable insights into these critical works. Please feel free to reach out to us with any questions or need further information.